

Regina Robinson

#1 College Admissions Advocate

Best Selling Author & CEO, Suited 4 Success

College Planning Services

Regina Robinson has helped students and families secure over $25 million in scholarships and grants. Sought after as a thought leader with over fifteen years of experience within the field of secondary and higher education. After years of teaching, consulting, and coaching, Regina provides education, strategies, and accountability for Middle School through College Students as she empowers them to connect their vision to a future plan of action that will make a global impact through innovation.

Her message is so powerful; high schools, colleges and universities, organizations and corporations continue to bring her back for training, workshops and keynote speaking engagements. She is widely known for engaging and motivating her audiences as she combines genuine inspiration, laughter, and practical principles that impact change.

Workshop Topics

Show Me The Money

With the cost of tuition rising yearly the primary responsibility of covering the cost remains the same, The Family. This workshop will provide you with the resources and knowledge to answer the following financial aid and scholarship questions:

When do I complete the FAFSA? Should I fill out the FAFSA? What's the likelihood I will receive financial aid? How do I qualify for Merit-Aid? Where do I look for Scholarships?

College 101

With so many choices for high school students to choose from it can be overwhelming. This workshop will ensure students leave with the resources, answers and guidance to making the best decision with ease, determination and confidence. This workshop will support students in connecting with their passion, while aligning to their future career goals in preparation for deciding their next steps.

Winning The Game Of College Admissions

#1 Amazon Best Seller

The book is designed to help you enhance your high school- to-college experience by providing you with the resources, answers and guidance needed to strategically navigate the college admissions process with ease, determination and confidence.

HBCU vs. PWI – It's Not About Color It's About A Choice

With a plethora of colleges to choose from, finding the right fit can be overwhelming. The question remains, what is the best choice for a HBCU or PWI? This workshop will highlight some key areas to consider in making the best decision. Every choice is a great choice. The question becomes which choice offers what you are looking for in your college experience. In the end your college experience will be what you make of it.

It's Time To Make A Decision

With so many decisions to make, the question remains, what is the best choice? This workshop will highlight key areas to consider in making the best decision. Every choice is a great choice. This workshop will support students as they gain clarity around what's next for them.

Testimonial

It is with great pleasure to write a recommendation for Ms. Regina Robinson. She recently was our keynote speaker for our Junior Parent Night. During her presentation it was evident to our audience that she has a wealth of knowledge of how parents can navigate the college application process. Ms. Robinson has presented for my Juniors and Seniors in the past; I consider her a "guru" when it comes to assisting our students in their efforts to pursue post-secondary education; supporting students' goal of selecting the "right fit" based on their personalities and career aspirations.

Mark Bickerstaff - Vice-Principal
Friendly High School, Prince George's County Public Schools

I really appreciate Ms. Robinson's visit with our church's College Bound Program students. She provided a very informative and engaging workshop to the students and parents on starting the general process of college admissions and funding assistance. All of our questions were thoroughly answered. I look forward to more helpful sessions from Ms. Robinson for our youth.

Pamela Payne
Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, Washington, DC

Regina has been featured in magazines as a cover story and contributing author as well as appeared on a host of podcast and radio shows as a featured guest.

HECA

HIGHER EDUCATION CONSULTANTS ASSOCIATION

NACAC
National Association for College Admission Counseling

SCORE

Georgetown University

